CONGRESS MUST CUT ESTIMATES BY OVER BILLION DOLLARS, SAYS REPUBLICAN LEADER IN HOUSE

Mondell Assails Administration for "Unfathomable Inconsistencies"

HITS WAR DEPARTMENT

Says Appropriations Asked for Army, Navy are Far Above
Proper Amounts

Washington, Dec. 16.—Urging rigid economy in appropriations for government expenses in order to lighten the tax burden, Rep. Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican leader, declared in the house today that the total estimate of $4,653,800,000 submitted by Secretary of the Treasury should be reduced by approximately $1,400,000,000. This reduction, he said, must be effected chiefly by a drastic scaling down in estimates for the army and navy and also for sundry civil expenses, the total of which he pointed out exceeded current appropriations by more than $914,000,000.

Criticizing the administration for the "unfathomable inconsistency" in the estimates submitted to Congress and the "relaxation of economy" made by the President and Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mondell declared he would leave it to others to properly characterize these efforts.

Assails War Department
"Two years after the war," the Republican added, when the world outside our borders is largely bankrupt and everybody is praying for reduction of armaments, the administration asks for an appropriation of more than $1,414,000,000 for the Army, Navy and fortifications, or five and a half times the highest peace-time appropriation of 1916."

Pointing out that current deficits were not included in that total Mr. Mondell declared these "may be swollen indefinitely if the war department continued its policy of recruiting the army up to full strength." This was contrary, he said, to the understanding that it should not exceed above the total of 175,000 men contemplated by the appropriation. Declaring that action was "in entire harmony with the attitude which the war and some other departments had assumed toward Congress in this administration," Mr. Mondell added it had become the duty of Congress to take action that would prevent such squandering of the people's money by creating deficiencies in violation of law.

PRIMARY LAW CHANGES ARE CONTEMPLATED

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 16.—Changes in the Minnesota primary laws are contemplated by several members in the 1921 State legislature, according to information received here. Just what changes will be proposed is not indicated although one representative declares that action was "in entire harmony with the attitude which the war and some other departments had assumed toward Congress in this administration." Mr. Mondell added it had become the duty of Congress to take action that would prevent such squandering of the people's money by creating deficiencies in violation of law.

Need of Army to Join World League Worries Luxembourg

The Hague, Dec. 16.—The question of increasing its "army" now numbering 175 men and six officers, to perhaps 2,500 men to meet possible requirements for police duty under the League of Nations, is greatly disturbing the parliament of the tiny nation of Luxembourg. Some opposition to joining the league at all developed on the ground that such an army would bankrupt the nation and rob industry of necessary labor.

Several Receive Their Master Mason Degree

Five candidates were given their master mason degree at the Masonic lodge Monday evening before a large attendance. Those who took the work which was put on most successfully at the lodge were: Roy Mathewson, S. O. engineer stationed at Wishek, J. C. Beck, M. E. Mikkelsen and V. S. Dinale, all of Bismarck.

Next Monday evening there will be installation of officers following banquet at which Grand Secretary Stockwell will be present.

TAX SUIT REPLY IS FILED HERE

The reply of the state to the railroad suit contesting the capital stock tax of the state was filed in federal court late yesterday by F. E. Packard, assistant Attorney-General. The state holds that the allocation of railroad capital stock and bonds for taxation on a property basis is legal, but that it is not the tax commission which may assess them on their gross earnings. The state relies on a decision rendered in an Arkansas case to sustain its contention.

OVERHAULING U. S. BUREAUS IS LONG TASK

Government Reorganization
May Require Many Years;
Big Bodies Move Slowly

MUCH WASTE DISCOVERED

BY HARRY B. HUNT,
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent
Washington, Dec. 16.—Big bodies move slowly. That is an axiom of science.

The United States government is a big body. That is the boast of every individual connected with it and of every patriotic citizen. Therefore—

The public must not expect too much in the way of an early overhauling of government departments and bureaus promised by the incoming administration in the interest both of efficiency and economy.

Figures Two Years
For instance, Congressman C. F. Davis, who has become Congress's only proposal to date which would set in motion the machinery necessary for reorganization says it will take at least two years before any proper program of reorganization can be formulated.

"Duplication of activities and overlapping functions of departments and even of bureaus within departments," Davis says, "is a source of waste almost incalculable. In my judgment it amounts to not less than $300,000,000 a year."

Yet enormous as the waste is and as great as it is to put one's finger on individual points of lost motion and waste effort it would only add to confusion and waste to undertake to correct the situation piecemeal. It can only be done properly after a comprehensive study has been made of the whole governmental layout.

60,000 RUSSIANS FLEE TO MEXICO

Mexico, Dec. 16.—Sixty thousand Russian refugees from Crimea are expected in Mexico within the next few months, according to a report received here. The Department of Agriculture, by one of its agents who has just returned from the Near East. The agent declared that many of the Russians will embark for Mexico within a few weeks. The government has identified a willingness to receive them.

Marsden, of Grand Forks, fell into the Red river while driving the ice with a sled, his faithful dog plunged into the icy waters beyond the fringe and saving the boy carried him to a place where the ice was thick enough to bring to until help arrived. Passers by attracted by the dog's barking and the cries of the boy rescued the child and he is recovering.

FARMERS' UNION URGES YOUNG'S TARIFF MEASURE

Meeting Here Adopts Resolutions, and Discusses Agricultural Situation

THANK LOCAL AGENTS

Members of the Burleigh County Farmers' Union and representatives of the state organization are in session at the Commercial club rooms at which marketing conditions are being discussed. The Burleigh county local met yesterday and today the state union is in session.

The following resolution endorsing the stand of Congressman Young in reviving the tariff on farm products and providing for a manner in which the farmer during the period of readjustment—

Whereas Congressman Geo. M. Young has introduced a bill in Congress for a tariff of fifty cents a bushel on wheat and rye and on other farm products in proportion and some of a percentage basis and

Whereas Agriculture has been snipped in the face by lack of financial resources and indifference to the needs of the farmer by state and national legislation and especially national legislation which has a tendency not only to ruin the farmers of this country but also is undermining the welfare of our nation for lack of farming means lack of food and lack of food means starvation and stagnation.

Therefore, be it resolved that we endorse the action taken by our Congressman Mr. Young and ask every member of the Farmers' Union and all other farmers and every farmer body in the state and other states to write their congressmen for a speedy passage of this bill.

Resolutions of thanks were also passed in honor of the work done by County Agent Gustafson and Miss Starky county demonstration agent. Both of them are leaving Burleigh county for another field. The resolutions were upon the board of county commissioners to select worthy people to serve on this work.

The Bismarck Commercial club was given a vote of thanks for the use of the hall as a meeting place. The resolution committee was composed of J. W. Burch, chairman, A. B. Hunt and P. L. Gronhoy.

CENSORSHIP ON U. S. CABLES IS AGAIN IMPOSED

President of Western Union
Tells Committee of Action Taken by British

PURPOSE IS EXPLAINED

Says Action Taken, Believed, with Reference to Internal Situation

Washington, Dec. 16.—An American cable message, now being held up by the British naval intelligence authorities, Newcomb, Cotton president of the Western Union cables, explained today that the committee investigating the cable situation is taking action believed to be in the interest of the internal situation.

The new British requirements have been imposed, Mr. Cotton said, in the purpose of throwing light on internal disturbances in Great Britain and I presume with more particular reference to Ireland and Bolshevism.

Mr. Cotton said he was not sure whether the British cables on the United States also were being held for examination.

Forgets Impressions
I want to correct a statement in Elkhart Root, I counsel for the American cables that the Western Union would proceed with its operations for landing the cable off Mexico. The fact is that two weeks before the landing was to be made a high official of the state department told me that our application was coming through and I expected the line to be in hand shortly.

We are down here throwing ourselves upon the ample goodness of the senate seeking justice. We are protesting in orderly ways through the courts. If the courts fail us, of course you may find us about your legs begging for mercy.

PRICE SLUMP IN MINNESOTA ALTER LEGISLATIVE PLAN

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 16.—Declining prices in almost all commodities and anticipated rent reductions may cause cancellation of plans by some members of the Minnesota legislature to present anti-price fixing legislation when the session convenes in January.

Several members of the House of Representatives, relying to a general inquiry as to measures they plan to introduce, pointed out that such legislation in mind at now will await general reform in the legislature before presenting their proposals.

MENTIONED FOR CABINET POST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The name of John D. Hays, a former cabinet member, was mentioned today as a possible candidate for the cabinet post of secretary of the interior. Hays, who is now in the United States, was mentioned by a source who said he was a close friend of the president.

FIVE NATIONS GIVEN PLACES IN THE LEAGUE

Bulgaria Admitted but With France and Australia Not Voting on Her

ARMENIA IS REFUSED

Geneva, Dec. 16.—Four nations were made members of the league of nations by the assembly of the league today. They were Bulgaria, Costa Rica, Finland and Luxembourg. France and Australia abstained from voting when the admission of Bulgaria was before the assembly for decision.

France abstained because its delegation declared it preferred not to vote in view of the incomplete nature of the information giving regarding Bulgaria's fitness—not because France had any objection to Bulgaria as a member.

Thirty-five states voted affirmatively when the balloting took place. The committee reported unfavorably upon the application of Armenia, Estonia, Latvia and Georgia. It failed to recommend the admission of Armenia because of that nation was not being exercised by the government. Canada, Switzerland, Sweden and five South American countries voted for her admission but the votes of 21 other states were recorded against her.

The assembly passed a resolution expressing hope that President Wilson's efforts would result in the saving of Armenia and the establishing of a stable government so that she might be admitted to the league in the near future.

Vienna, Dec. 16.—When by purchase gift and inheritance the House of Hapsburg acquired the most superb collection in the world its members hardly were aware that some day they would be pawned to buy bread for a succeeding republic.

The reparations commission having given its consent, the government is now trying to raise enough money on these tapestries to purchase 50,000 tons of flour against the imminent exhaustion of the supply on hand. The read ration has been reduced to 2 per cent corn meal and 3 per cent wheat flour content with 50 per cent corn meal and 3 per cent wheat flour content.

STATE FINANCIAL PLAN AGREED UPON INCLUDES ORDERLY SALE OF PRODUCTS AND FINANCE BODY

BANK AUDIT CASH COMES FROM MANY

"The most encouraging thing about this public subscription to pay for the audit of the state industries is the number of small subscriptions received," said Thomas Hall, secretary of state today.

Among the small subscriptions received were $20 from 20 men at J. and La. House county, and $200 in small amounts from nearly 200 persons in Cavalier county.

MINN. SOLONS FORM PROGRAM FOR SESSION

Seek to Have Unity of Action
Upon Industrial Program for State

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 15.—While numerous members of the 1921 Minnesota legislature had formulated measures they plan to introduce early in the session, many other members are awaiting the action of various committees investigating certain legislative needs, before deciding definitely what their program will be.

Replies to a general questionnaire sent to all members of the House and Senate disclose the legislation to all farmers in marketing their crops and the adoption of a tonnage tax law probably will be foremost. The legislature also will have to enact necessary measures to make the Babcock good roads amendment effective.

Consideration of farmers legislation is now under way by financial committees and some definite program expected to be presented in both houses shortly after the session starts. A committee of twenty-seven members has been named by W. J. Nolan, speaker-elect of the House to outline legislation covering the Babcock amendment. This committee is made up as follows:

First Congressional district: Ralph J. Parker, Harry H. Threlkeld, H. H. Emmerson, John Robinson.
Second Congressional district: E. O. Olsen, John G. Gerlich, W. N. Slanka, B. H. Curtis.
Third district: Oscar A. Swenson, Walter H. McLaughlin, Oliver J. Lee.
Fourth district: John I. Levin, St. Paul.
Fifth district: W. D. Delahorn, Minneapolis.

Eighth district: R. W. Hitchcock, J. J. McPartlin, George H. Harrell.
Ninth district: H. A. Putnam, John T. Pelly, Victor Holmquist.
Tenth district: Elias Nordgren, Thomas E. Grilling.

This committee will meet in St. Paul on Monday in the retiring room adjoining the House chamber. Mr. Nolan pointed out that the committee was not a formal committee as formal committees will not be appointed until the legislature meets.

Two Phases Outlined by Special Committee Following Conference Here

TO MOBILIZE WARRANTS

Sale of Them Through Finance Corporation and Sale of Products Planned

A definite program for improving credit conditions in North Dakota is ready to be put into effect today.

The program, the result of the state officials-bankers conference, a special committee of the executive council of the bankers association and state officials, was decided upon at a meeting yesterday afternoon in this city in which the state officials-bankers' conference special committee, state officials not members of the committee and G. H. Hollister, president of the Northern Trust Company of Fargo, representative of the executive council of the state bankers association, participated.

The program, as stated by Mr. Hollister, includes two definite phases they are:

1. Support of the finance corporation with every member bank of the bankers' association as a stockholder.
2. Orderly marketing of the agricultural products of North Dakota at the rate of 10 per cent every month.

"The program is the result of all the conferences, which have brought home to us the fact that we've got to begin at home to raise money to take care of ourselves," said Mr. Hollister. "You can't go out and get money in any magical way you've got to start at home."

Mr. Hollister as spokesman for the committee and others, are optimistic over conditions in the state.

Have Buck Fever
A Chicago financial representative told me the other day that this state has nothing the matter with it but buck fever, said Mr. Hollister. We have nothing like the problems states to the south and east of us have."

The first phase of the program agreed upon contemplates the carrying out of the North Dakota finance corporation agreed upon at Fargo last week by the bankers' committee. The capital stock will be $1,000,000. Each bank that is a member of the bankers' association which includes practically every institution in the state, is expected to subscribe stock proportionate with its resources.

"To make the plan a success every bank must have a share," said Mr. Hollister, "but the assets thus created are to be used only in emergencies."

Mobilize Warrants
The first endeavor of this corporation he said would be to mobilize the school and county warrants and to market for them the banks to guarantee the genuineness and reliability of the warrants. A survey has shown that there are about $50,000 of the state warrants in the hands of the state. The market can be found for them reasonably soon, great relief will be afforded Mr. Hollister said. The same procedure is to be followed with respect to farm mortgages.

In addition this phase of the program contemplates the carrying out of the North Dakota finance corporation with every member bank of the bankers' association as a stockholder. The capital stock will be $1,000,000. Each bank that is a member of the bankers' association which includes practically every institution in the state, is expected to subscribe stock proportionate with its resources.

NAME CHAIRMEN OF DIVISIONS OF FEDERATION

Reorganization Work of State Federation Work Is Put Under Way

LOCAL WOMEN HONORED

Chairmen of the new committee of the State Federation of Women's clubs under the reorganization of committee work have been named, and the vice chairmen have been named. It is expected that the committees will begin to plan the work assigned them. At the meeting of the state federation here in October the constitution was changed so as to conform with the new arrangement of the general federation in regard to departmental work. The number of departments was reduced from 11 to six under the new plan. The new departments are: American citizenship, public welfare, applied education, fine arts, legislation and press. The chairmen and vice chairmen thus far named include: American citizenship—Chairman, Mrs. Albert Strand, Ellendale; vice chairman, Miss Anna Tibbels, of Parko college. Public welfare, Mrs. A. H. Peterson, Mandan; vice chairman, Mrs. O. A. Dickinson, Minot. Applied education, Miss Minnie J. Nielson, chairman; vice chairman, Mrs. M. O'Neil, Hettinger. Fine arts—Mrs. F. J. Thompson, Fargo; vice chairman, Mrs. A. G. Jacobson, Bismarck. Legislation—Chairman, Mrs. Andrew Blewett, Jamestown. Press—Mrs. F. R. Smyth, Bismarck. Under each chairman there are eight divisions, with one representative from each of the eight club districts in the state. The new plan, it is believed, will prevent overlapping of departmental work and greatly intensify the efforts of the clubwomen. Mrs. L. N. Cary, of Mandan, is president of the state federation and Mrs. Robert McBride, of Cavalier, is vice president. Mrs. Cary and Mrs. Fred Conklin, of Bismarck, corresponding secretary, conferred here this week on club matters.

JAUNTY BOX SUITS VOGUE IN NEW YORK

BY CORA MOORE,

New York's Fashion Authority.
New York, Dec. 15.—Here are one of those jaunty box suits that are such a rage in New York. Tea suits they are called and one sees them worn with just a choker or small collar of fur on mild days, and with great capes or wrap-around scarfs when the weather demands, or even underneath a fur coat to be left in the dressing room. The one sketched belongs to Patricia Collinge in "Just Suppose" at Henry Miller's Theatre and it is most attractive. Gray it is with black braid and embroidery and an ermine collar and worn with a gray hat of the suit materials of suede velvet. With it Miss Collinge also wears a white satin blouse that comes over the skirt, wrinkling in a graceful effect all the way from the top of the high collar.

Thrill in the Household: Mrs. F. J. Marcellus had as her subject "The Needs of a City" and Mrs. J. P. French read a paper on "American Pottery." Mrs. Arnot served refreshments at the close of the program.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

A NUISANCE

The usual decennial nuisance and expense is about to be shoved off on the people. Congressman Siegel of New York announces that he is bringing into the short session a bill to add 50 members to the House of Representatives, based on the 1920 census. As he is head of the appropriations committee, it is likely that this useless bit of expensive plunder will be tacked onto the governmental system.

The House of Representatives is now, of course, at least twice as big as efficient operation would justify. The only reason for adding 50 new members is to prevent a few states from having their representation cut down slightly.

It would be infinitely better if the number of representatives, instead of being increased, could be cut to about 300. But the useless extravagance will be practiced unless people all over the country register immediate and emphatic protest. The next election is far away. Congress is filled with "lame ducks" and re-elected members who are not worrying about what the people think now.

Souvenir hunters seem to be confining their efforts to France and leaving Russia off their itinerary.

Some statesmen are sitting up nights trying to find a way to put the ax to the income tax.

CHRISTMAS FOR MEN

Mother living? Yes. Well, maybe last Christmas you didn't go home. Maybe you just couldn't. Maybe you wrote a letter instead. Or just sent the usual Christmas box. That wasn't a real Christmas to your mother.

Try giving yourself to your mother for just one day.

It has been said that the exchange of presents at Christmas day may be made "a cheerful old custom of a futile old farce." Isn't it just possible that mother may be beginning to think that Christmas Day is a "futile old farce" unless it is cheered up a bit by the presence of her boy, her "baby?"

Anyhow, whether you make it a point to go home for Christmas, and even if you write to mother telling her that "this time it will be impossible to get there," remember this: That all Christmas Day through there will be a face at the window, and a mother hoping, hoping against fate that the big bulk of her boy will loom through the snowflakes. A mother never gives up hope while there's life, you know.

Plum pudding may be served with brandy from individual supply, according to a Boston man, but that doesn't solve the problem for everyone.

BILL STARTED IT

Kew was well as a proletarian, have been playing billiards nearly 400 years. It is a great game, billiards is, a test of skill and brains and nerves. As one drives the balls about it is doubtful if one in a thousand knows the story of the game.

William Kew invented it. Kew was a pawnbroker in London. History tells us that Kew, at times when business was slack, grew into the habit of removing the three gilt balls, that served as a sign on his shop, and shoved them around on a table, hitting one with the other, with a yard stick. The idea of a game with rules on a special table and with ivory balls installed itself in his mind. He developed it and billiards is the result.

The inventor's given name, you see was Bill. He drove the first balls around with a yardstick. So it became "Bill-yards." And again the inventor's last name was Kew. The yard stick later they called a "Kew." Now it is a cue, pronounced the same, but spelled differently.

It certainly is odd, the beginning of things.

A grouch has this advantage—if he does happen to smile at Christmas it means more than the smile of an optimist.

Long distance interference is a fad now. While we dabble in Irish affairs, Japan shows great interest in California's law making.

We hope this crime wave will lead to Mar-cells for a lot of crooks.

"JUDGE" LYNCH'S LAW

"He was a victim of lynch law." How often that sentence appears. And it means only this; which of course, is more than enough: That without due process of law some human was hung, usually by a mob.

But why lynch law? What does that mean? From whence did that term come? Simple enough, too. Charles Lynch was a planter of Virginia some 130 years ago. He wasn't satisfied with the way the courts worked. So he and a number of friends established a "court" of their own, and passed upon cases brought to their attention. The supreme penalty was at times invoked, and the victim hung.

That was Lynch law in the making. But it has retrograded largely with the passing of time. And it is a mighty poor law at best. Nowadays at times, the lynch lawyers fail to give their victims the semblance of a trial. That at least, Judge Charles Lynch did, back there in Virginia.

FORTY-ONE MURDERS IN FIFTY-FOUR DAYS

To the forty murders on the appalling record of this city between October 1 and November 21 there was added on the evening of November 23 still another. This victim of three footpads was shot and then beaten to death with the butt end of a revolver just within the Seventy-second street gate of Central Park. He was felled under the eyes of a sailor to whom he had just given a match. His cries, as he battled helplessly for his life, were heard by dozens of persons in a prominent hotel not a stone's throw from the spot. The deed was done within a few hundred feet of a traffic policeman who, however, is under no blame for not knowing of the swift and fatal crime, because passing automobiles where he stood drowned the other sounds.

This is how openly and boldly the thieves and murderers who have made New York a crime ridden town do their work. This is how we come to such a ghastly score as forty-one murders in fifty-four days.

Now, there is no gainsaying that such rampant crime elsewhere as well as here is one of the malignant heritages of war. But the Mayor of Philadelphia, arming scores of policemen with sawed-off shotguns and moving them in swift motor cars through and around the danger spots, is making highway robbery altogether too hazardous a trade for Philadelphia bandits and they are running to cover. Chicago is runding up its bad men, tagging them, so to speak, and then keeping them under a vigilant police eye so that whenever they stir their movements are known to their watchers and whenever they strike or attempt to strike, they are bagged. And this sort of detection and punishment is not what criminals are looking for anywhere, so they give Chicago a wide berth.

There are no better, cleaner and braver policemen anywhere in the world than our own. No one can doubt that the rank and file is burning with eagerness to stamp out the lawlessness which is a disgrace to this city and a menace to its people. No one can doubt that if the police of Chicago and Philadelphia can do such a thing, enough policemen specially detailed for the work, intelligently directed, properly led and powerfully supported, can and will make this town too hot for stickup men and murderers. If it is not done here the people of this city are bound to assume, as they are right to assume, that the responsibility for failing to do it rests at the top.—New York Herald.

FAR FROM "BROKE"

North Dakota has unsold farm produce worth approximately $200,000,000 according to the best estimates available.

The 1920 crops were estimated by government reports to be worth, at 1919 prices, about $400,000,000. On the basis of Oct. 15 prices, it was estimated by twin city bankers that the crops were worth about $288,000,000. Deducting what has been sold, and making allowance for any further decreases in prices since Oct. 15, it might be a conservative estimate to place the value of unsold farm products in North Dakota at close to $200,000,000.

That figure is almost equal to the combined resources of all state and national banks in North Dakota.

It amounts to about two-thirds of all the farm mortgages in North Dakota.

It would liquidate all the farm paper held by all the banks in the state and leave a very substantial sum toward paying off the mortgages, possibly one-third of them.

With those figures before him, any man who intimates that North Dakota business is not fundamentally sound, is either a fool or a knave.

The crops will be marketed some time. Whether prices go up or down, the crops will be sold sooner or later, and as rapidly as they are marketed liquidation of debts will continue and the load on the banks will gradually lighten. What we need in North Dakota is the confidence of the rest of the United States and a little more ready money. The action of the twin city mortgage banks ought to help us materially in getting both. Eleven of the biggest mortgage bankers in the country are not sending money into North Dakota for sentimental or political reasons. They are sending it here because they expect to get it back with interest and if such bankers consider North Dakota fundamentally sound, no private investor need fear to send in his savings for investment in this state.—Fargo Forum.

THE FORTUNE TELLER

OUTLINES PLAN OF DEVELOPMENT OF CAPITOL GROUNDS INTO AN UNIQUE OUTDOOR MUSEUM

BY MELVIN RANDOLPH GILMORE,
State Historical Society

Human beings are very much the creatures of habit. Most people do what others do, without thinking and without reason. In manner of living, in dress, food, amusements, studies, recreations, and in planning and planting of gardens and parks most people do not inquire what is fitting and becoming, wholesome and comfortable, harmonious and suitable, according to climate and circumstances, but they wish to know what is customary or fashionable.

In planning and planting they do not study to plant according to soil and climate of the given region, but according to plans and plantings to which they have been accustomed. So it has come about that a park pertaining to any city from Boston to Omaha will differ very little from another. The visitor sees but a monotonous repetition in every park he visits, and in none of them will he find an exposition of the native flora of the immediate region of the given locality.

But the state of North Dakota has adopted a plan for the development of the capitol grounds which, when accomplished, will make the said grounds a living outdoor museum of North Dakota. This plan will give to our capitol grounds a characteristic beauty and interest of their own and a unique distinction, for no other capitol grounds have been planned as comprehensively. And probably no other state, certainly none of the older states, now has the possibility which North Dakota has in this respect: for their capitol grounds are all already closely impinged by the surrounding buildings on private property. But North Dakota has an opportunity and a plan which can be developed through long time to come, improving every year. Nothing which is done according to this plan need be merely temporary; all that is done makes for ultimate and permanent improvement.

The plan is to employ only native trees, shrubs, vines and flowering plants for the general planting system of this park. Several purposes will be served by this plan. In the first place native vegetation is already acclimated and will be more successful, for it has become adjusted to conditions through a period of thousands of years. Also the native species will possess more of an air of content, of dignity and stability as communities of residents, and not the dejected, homesick and apologetic air of captive aliens in unfriendly surroundings. The native vegetation will be more harmonious and in keeping with its surroundings. By the use of native vegetation the planting will be more successful and healthy, and also will be actively attractive in evoking to the minds of visitors, pictures of the original appearance of North Dakota before the changes and ravages which have been wrought by agricultural operations, of road-building, and the devastation and desolation accompanying other industrial operations.

This outdoor museum will afford the people of North Dakota the opportunity to become acquainted with the natural beauties of our state, and with the acquaintance will come a deeper feeling of attachment and content, and there is no property which is so valuable as this to citizens. And some so essential to a state.

It is planned to plant on the lower ground those species of trees and other vegetation which demand the most moisture, and the species more and more to the point of arid conditions upon the rising ground, so that finally, on the height of the ridge back of the capitol shall be the bull pine, the red cedar or juniper, and the scrub juniper and creeping juniper common to the buttes and Bad Lands. In the neighborhood of the various species of trees, from the cottonwood of the low grounds, the ash and the oak of the higher grounds, and the pines and cedars of the highest grounds, it is intended to have the various associated species of smaller growth, the shrubs and vines and flowering plant proper to each situation.

All the various native fruits of this region will find place in the plan. These will in themselves afford a revelation of their present usefulness and possible future greater usefulness and improvement by selective breeding.

The north part of the tract, back of the capitol, is to be left untouched to show forever the nature of the original prairie vegetation, which was the most outstanding natural feature of North Dakota. Here will be the native grasses and the native wild flowers of the prairie. Here in its natural situation, but also in other parts of the grounds, will be the state flower of North Dakota, the wild rose of the prairie. There are four different species of wild roses in North Dakota, and all will have their proper representation in the park planting, but the state flower, which is the prairie rose, Rosa pratincola, should have pre-eminence.

One of the native wild fruits should be given special attention also in connection suitable to its nature, because this fruit has given the geographical name of a river, mountains, a county and a town in North Dakota. This is the pembe berry, which is sometimes called "high-bush cranberry," although it is nothing like a cranberry, any more than a peach is like a tomato. They are not at all botanically related. This berry, the fruit of the Viburnum opulus variety americanum, is called in the Chippewa language pepin-minnan. Nepenthes has been corrupted into various forms by the white man's tongue, but the form which has become fixed upon the map of North Dakota is pemba; so we have the Pemba river, Pemba mountains, the town of Pemba, which is the oldest white establishment in the state, and Pemba county.

By the plan which is adopted our state capitol grounds are to be an expression of art and science, an exposition of beauty and knowledge, and in the mind's eye of the one who conceived the plan it is seen as a constantly growing and improving institution through all the years of the future. According to our plan, never is done is permanent and enduring, and not of a temporary character. The park of the capitol grounds will constitute in itself by this plan an educational institution for all the people. Here may be learned much of the botany and zoology of this region, and also of ethnology, history and archaeology, as well as an appreciation of the beauties of nature, of landscape and of architecture.

MAKING PLACES FOR DIMPLES

Wonderful Effect of Reolo in Filling Out Hollow Cheeks With New Firm Flesh.

Regardless of what and how much you eat, if the nervous system is unstrung and the iron has been burned out of the blood, the long, drawn face and haunted expression will remain. But put Reolo into your blood, let the nerve centers come in contact with it, and then you have started upward. There is one component of Reolo that actually provokes an increase of blood in combination with this element there are ingredients that increase red corpuscles enormously in certain anemic conditions. In a day or two the appetite improves in a way that is a revelation to those who found it hard work to eat, and soon the bluish pallor of the skin is replaced with the pinkish hue of health. You now not only feel well, you look it, such is the remarkable influence of Reolo in but a few short days. But this is not all. Reolo has intensified the activity of the vital processes to such an extent that the old feeling of exhaustion after effort is completely gone. It is certainly a most comfortable and satisfactory feeling of reassurance, and there is no other condition to be compared to it. Ask any of the clerks at Finney's Drug store and any other leading drug store about Reolo. They are selling it and recommending it upon the strength of what they see every day, men and women the very picture of health who six weeks before were nervous and bloodless dependents. Get a $1.00 box of Reolo today and live.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Some time ago I published in the Tribune a statement, taken from publications which are usually very correct regarding the damage caused during the war to the cathedral of Reims. Jusserand, the French Ambassador informs me today by telegram that those damages are not 114,000 francs, but 114,000,000 francs.

AT THE MOVIES

ELTING
People have fallen into the habit of calling every picture in which Charles Ray appears "a typical Ray picture" and letting it go at that. This would seem to indicate that the youthful star's characterizations are largely all alike, which is not true.

Mr. Ray is one of the most versatile stars of the screen. Reviewing some of his most recent pictures reveals the fact that in the last year he has appeared in such widely diversified roles as a prize fighter, a crack baseball player, a hotel clerk, an expressman, a bank clerk, a son of poor but honest parents, a son of rich but unscrupulous parents, an English aristocrat and finally a detective.

He has the last named part in his newest Thomas H. Ince picture, "A Village Sleuth," which he will begin at the Billmore theatre for two days commencing tomorrow. Mr. Ray is a small-town lad with ambitions to become a great detective, and securing a position as chore boy in a rest sanitarium, he unexpectedly is given an opportunity to show his sleuthing ability. And makes good. Jerome Storm directed the picture, which is a Paramount release, and Winifred Westover is the leading woman.

EASTERN GRID STARS SUPERIOR SAYS MR. CAMP

Discusses Merits of Players in Collier's Weekly Article

WEST GETS SEVEN

Backbone of Football Material Comes From Yale, Harvard and Princeton

New York, Dec. 16.—Eastern college football players still form the backbone of the All-American teams season of 1921. In his selections announced in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, the veteran football expert names thirty-three players grouped in a first, second and third team. Of this number twenty-one are named from eastern colleges and universities, seven from middle western institutions, three from southern colleges and two from Pacific Coast universities.

Gives Outline. In his introduction Mr. Camp gives an outline of the necessary requisites for a player who measures up to an All-American standard citing Stanley Keck, the Princeton tackle, as an example. His article in part is as follows:

The All-American team of 1921 represents a far greater breadth of ability on the part of every one of its members than any team ever before selected. The startling development of the game has put additional requirements on each individual position, and this condition has reached a limit to-day undreamed of by the general rank and file, and only appreciated by the coaches and experts throughout the country. Perhaps it is only fair to give some idea of this, so that the average layman may understand what it means to be an All-American man today. Taking an individual man in position as an example of this, there is no better illustration than Stanley Keck, the Princeton tackle. Here was a tackle who, in his two big games, showed the following qualifications: In the first place, he had the usual marks of a strong player in the position, namely, ability to handle himself well, to break through, to tackle, to lead a line back or a play that went between the tackle and guard, to aid an end, and sometimes to beat him in getting down the field under kicks. Then, in addition, Keck hurried the forward passer as well as the punter; he was a long-distance placement kicker, a good kicker of accuracy, and finally, with one or two comparatively light men in his back field, he helped bear their burdens in a measure where they were forced to come up against weight and power. One added element was that of shiftness, his ability to move on the defense from one side of the line to the other according as unbalanced lines required greater power to meet the charge. He met the Harvard charges, he shifted to meet formation plays, he broke through and hurried the passer and the kicker, and finally brought about a touchdown by blocking the Harvard punt. In the Yale game he did all these things, with the exception of blocking a punt, and in addition scored one field goal from placement, hit the crossbar with Louie's run for a touchdown around the end. This is a typical illustration of the possibilities of a single position under the modern game.

End Positions. From this it is easy to see that few indeed of the positions of the All-American team this year were made without a struggle. But in spite of the fact that competition for almost every position was keen up to the end of the season, it has been possible to reach a final and conclusive decision.

"Lane" and Fincher receive the end positions for the proper balance of the team. Carney's play all season has been a great asset to his team. He is fast, strong, and well built, a superb handler of the forward pass.

and a star end down the field. He is hard to circle, fights interference well, and lets no one outside him. The other end goes to Fincher, who is original position and whose schooling has been that of end although he is being used at tackle by George Tye this year. He has always been one of the fastest of rangy ends, and this year we need him especially for his power, long reach, and general build, which is of the kind that occupies a great deal of space from one tackle tip to the other, and who can be used not only on the defense, but with great power on the attack, as he is quite big enough to handle a tackle. His reach is also an asset in forward passes, as well as in breaking them up.

At Tackle. As to the tackle position, the qualifications have already been specifically stated. That of Wisconsin is the other tackle on account of his great activity, coupled with his strength and power. It is seldom that a man of his physique is as quick on his feet, a caddy which adds him much on the defense, while enabling him to displace his opponent on attack. Defenwick of Harvard showed the same qualities, but was unfortunately laid up so much as to be out of condition for playing a full game.

At guard, Callahan of Yale is the best defensive lineman on any team this year. He is quick as a cat, for all his weight, and particularly brilliant in sizing up the break in the line and getting to it by the time the runner reaches it. A ball shoulder forced him into the position of guard on account of his inability to pass the ball, but that has not in the least interfered with his work as a guard. Woods of Harvard was in a class by himself for power, aggressiveness, and ability to diagnose plays. His huge frame is impenetrable to line forcing, and he is wonderfully active for such a big man.

At center it was for a time a very close thing between Stein of Pittsburgh and Cunningham of Dartmouth. Stein has come through last year more successfully than Cunningham. Not that this casts any reflection upon the latter, but it must be remembered that Dartmouth suffered at the hands of both Syracuse and Penn State, whereas Pittsburg, in spite of some close calls, has come through unscathed. Stein has really been the keystone of the line and has kept it together when things were disintegrating. He is particularly well and is thoroughly satisfactory in all the requirements of this not exceedingly difficult job. A good deal of the passing play is direct passing, and that requires even greater regularity than passing through the quarterback. Stein is exceptionally good at this from his long experience under the Glenn Warner system.

The Selections. The selections follow in regular formation:

BOSTON, YANKS INVOLVED IN BIG BALL TRADE

New York, Dec. 16.—The New York and Boston clubs of the American League have completed a trade involving eight players. Catcher "Muddy" Ruel, Pitcher Herb Thormahlen, Second Baseman "Del" Pratt, and Outfielder Sam Velt of the Yankees go to the Red Sox in exchange for Catcher Wally Schang, Pitchers Harry Harper and Waite Hoyt and Infielder Mike McNary.

The trade was engineered by Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Harry Frazee, presidents of the New York and Boston clubs, respectively. They announced no money was involved in the transaction. It was made on the condition that both clubs assume the responsibility of signing the players.

Del Pratt is the only one of the players about whom there seems to be doubt about playing next season. He signed a contract as athletic coach with a western university at the conclusion of last year's activities.

Manager Huggins said the deal was made primarily for the purpose of giving each club a player that both needed.

Basket Ball Season In Full Swing Now

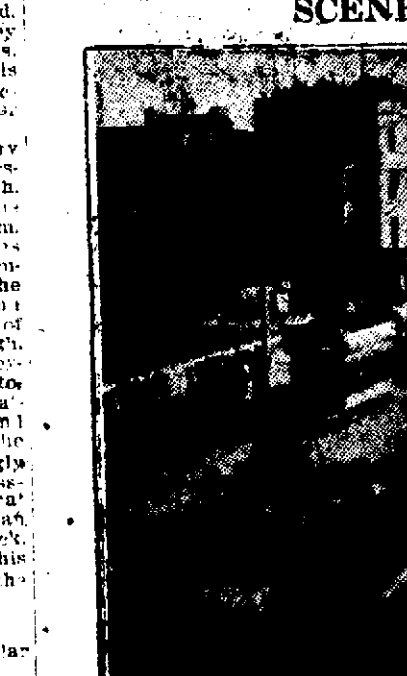

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 16.—With the opening of the basketball season in the Minnesota college conference set for Jan. 8, coaches of the various squads are busy putting in the final practice touches before the Christmas holidays interfere with training.

FIGHTING THAT LED TO BURNING OF CORK

CORK, Ireland—Scenes like that pictured above have been common in Cork for months. A mob is shown chasing an Irishman suspected of being a police spy. Nowhere, not even in Dublin, has feeling been at as high pitch during the warfare in Ireland, as in Cork. The Cork burning came as the climax to the long period of bitter fighting between the British and the Sinn Feiners.

ILLINOIS PROSPECTS FOR FINE BASKETBALL TEAM ARE DIMMED

Carney, All-Western End, Dislocates a Knee—Other Football Men in Squad

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 16.—Prospects for a championship basketball team at the University of Illinois were considerably dimmed when Carney, all-western end, dislocated his knee in the Ohio State football game. Carney will be out of the team for the season so far as the present schedule goes, meeting Hamilton University on the latter's floor in St. Paul, March 18.

The conference directors decided at their Chicago meeting to hold their next season at Macalester College in St. Paul, March 14, when the basketball and tennis schedules will be drawn up for the 1921 season. The Collegeville meeting decided that hockey had not advanced to a point where it could well be considered worthy of a place in conference races, although it was indicated several of the schools might put teams in the field on an independent basis. It was indicated that the subject of hockey would again come up at the conference meeting next fall.

ILLINOIS WON'T MEET HARVARD

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 16.—The possibility of a football game between Harvard and Illinois has been denied by George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois. Director Huff dampened the hopes of football followers for an intercollegiate game when he announced that neither Illinois nor Harvard officials had expressed any desire for a contest next year and that it is unlikely that it will be done. Mr. Huff holds that Illinois' schedule with Western Conference teams for next year will tax the team to its limit and another game would work a hardship upon the team, besides lessening its chances for the championship.

FIX DATE FOR BOWLING MEET

Butte, Mont., Dec. 16.—Definite time for the holding of the annual Montana state bowling tournament has been set for the first week in March. Butte was awarded the 1921 meet at the close of the 1920 tourney at Missoula.

It will be the first time that Butte has entertained state bowlers and plans are under way to enter a number of local teams. With 345 members entered, a record was established at Missoula's last spring. Butte bowlers hope to put at least twenty local teams in the meet and make a strong bid for a record in the number of entries.

Ice Forming Weather Pleases Minn. Curlers

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 16.—The first real ice forming weather of the season, which arrived here early this week (Dec. 15) has given curlers and hockey players the opportunity they have been wishing for since November.

Members of the St. Paul Curling club got out the skates in preparation for the match play which is to come later in the season, while members of the St. Paul Athletic Club hockey team, who have only had gymnasium work so far this season, were on the ice yesterday afternoon perfecting their work for the first matches which are to come soon after Christmas.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 16.—Connie Taft, champion lightweight boxer of Canada, who for some time has made his home in Minneapolis, will box Pinky Mitchell of Milwaukee here Friday night in a ten-round, no decision bout.

Mitchell encountered some difficulty in making the weight stipulated for the bout, but declared he would rather lose the forfeit money than enter the ring in a weakened condition from too rapid reduction.

HOPE DEMANDS

New York, Dec. 16.—An essential condition on which Willie Hoppe, world's billiard champion, will consent to play against Edward Horamans, the Belgian expert, is that they play only one match, at 18.2 walk line. Hoppe insists on two matches at 18.1 and the other at 18.2, claiming this is the only true test of suppon.
